A Flexible Way to Plan

Every couple is different – and so is the way they plan.

We offer a flexible mix of virtual and in-person planning, including Zoom meetings and access to our intuitive online planning hub. Shared timelines, real-time updates and clear communication keep everything organised, while our in-person services offer hands-on support whenever you want a planner right by your side.

Whether you're planning a destination wedding, balancing a busy schedule, or prefer face-to-face support throughout – we adapt to you.

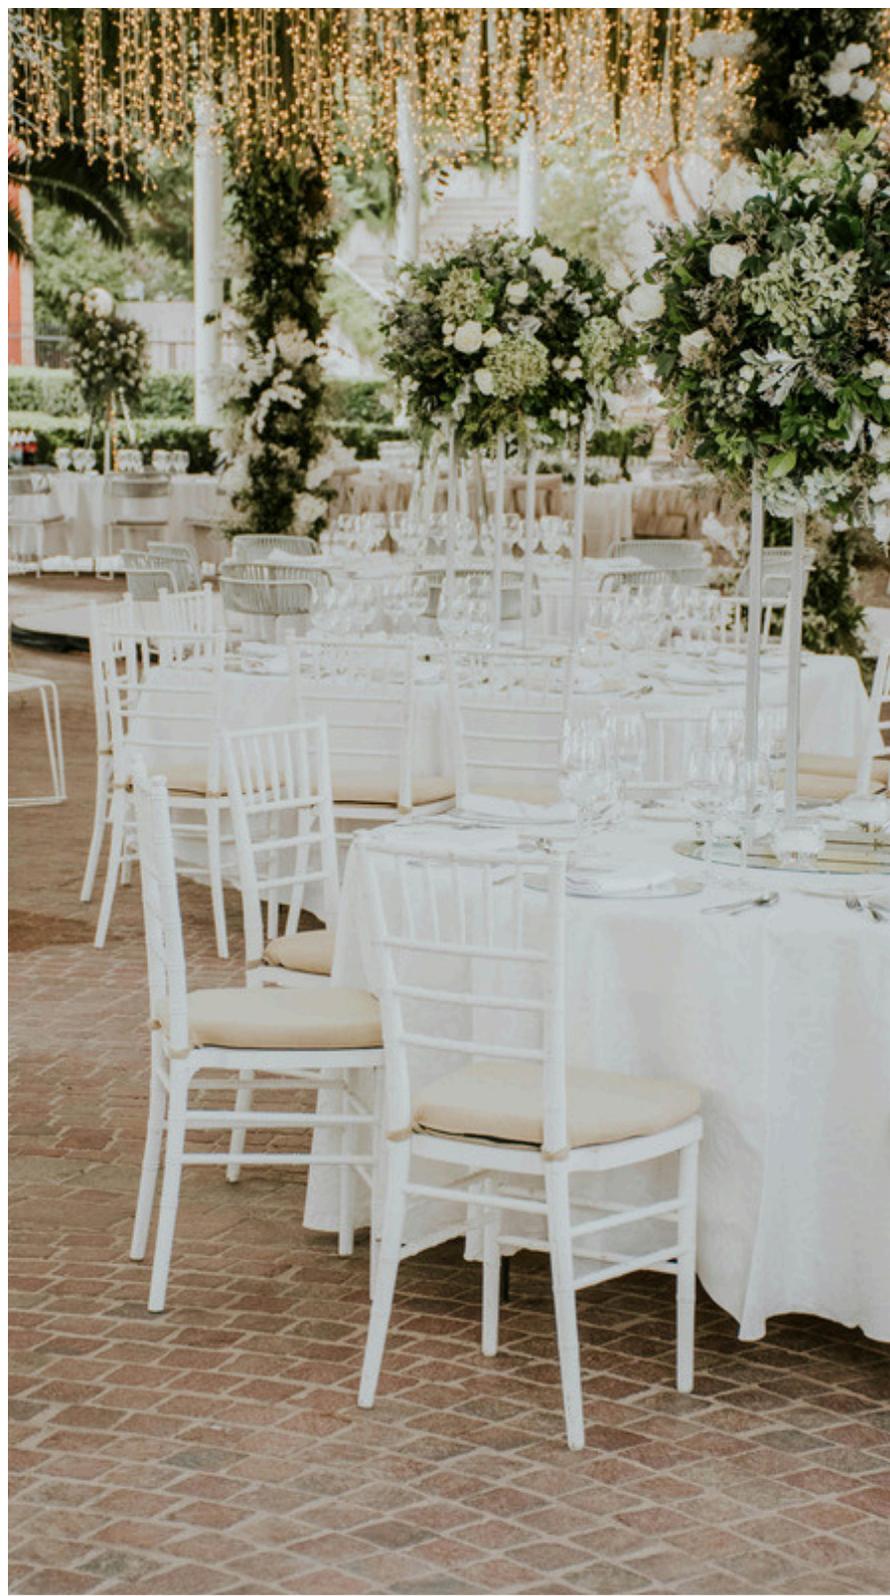

More Than Just Planning

Alongside wedding planning and coordination, we also own and operate our own wedding and event bars and street food setups.

This gives us a strong understanding of event flow, timings and guest experience – and allows everything to work seamlessly together if you choose to combine services.

It's a joined-up approach that helps your day feel effortless, well-paced and beautifully considered.

Frequently Asked Questions

When should we book a wedding planner or coordinator?

The earlier you book, the more support we can offer. On-the-day coordination is often booked 6-12 months in advance.

Can we book on-the-day coordination even if you didn't plan our wedding?

Absolutely. Many couples plan their own wedding and bring us in to manage the final stages and the day itself.

Do you offer virtual planning support?

Yes – we offer a flexible mix of virtual and in-person planning, ideal for busy couples or those planning from further afield.

Do you work with our chosen suppliers?

Of course. We're happy to work with suppliers you've already booked and can recommend trusted professionals if needed.

Do you only plan weddings?

While weddings are our main focus, we also plan private celebrations and events.
